The Center for American Studies and Research and the Issam Fares Institute for Public Policy are pleased to present a forum:

Understanding the U.S. Presidential Elections

- How will the election impact U.S. domestic and foreign relations?
- What does the election mean for U.S. policy in the Middle East/ North Africa?
- What was included and excluded from the campaigns?

Experts affiliated with CASAR and IFI will offer brief analyses of the election followed by audience questions and discussion.

A forum is a space to discuss ideas and to share expertise. Audience participation is a must.

When: Wednesday, November 7 2012, 3pm
Where: Building 37 (Behind the Lee Observatory Building)

Refreshments will be served following the event.
