

Seminar to be held on ‘The Environment: How Serious is Lebanon (From Copenhagen to Beirut)’

Friday February 19, 2010

The Student Representative Council at the Faculty of Health Sciences, in collaboration with the Environment Club, is organizing a seminar entitled 'The Environment: How Serious is Lebanon (From Copenhagen to Beirut)', with the presence of Environment Minister Mohammad Rahhal, on February 23 at 4.30 pm in Issam Fares Hall. An environmental photo exhibition will also be held in parallel.

Speakers will include the Lebanese minister of environment, Mr. Mohammad Rahhal, the president of the Green Party of Lebanon, Mr. Phillip Skaff, and the executive director of Indy ACT, Mr. Wael Homaidan. The seminar is followed by an open discussion with the audience. At the end of the event winners of the first, second and third prize of the environmental photo competition will be announced.
