

Thana'a Al Khasawneh Biography

Thana'a Al Khasawneh is an entrepreneurial leader and key advisor in the private and non-profit sectors in Jordan. She who is known for her expertise in building and restructuring companies, has successfully grown organizations and helped them achieve outstanding financial and/or social returns. Al Khasawneh worked at the Mowgli Mentoring MENA as a fundraiser and development director for seven years, during which she helped the foundation to grow significantly throughout the region. She is currently the executive director of the Business & Professional Women Association, which advocates for gender equality and enhance women inclusion in the workforce. Previously, she held various management and marketing positions at the Sultan Centre Food Product Company, KSC-SAFEWAY and the Egyptian Arab Land Bank. She is head of BPWA in Jordan, which strengthens the competitiveness of women in Jordanian companies. Al Khasawneh recurrent statement: "that we create our own path through ownership, responsibility and accountability; changing our behaviour requires willingness, realization of who we are and what legacy we wish to leave behind"